

Picture It! The Potential of Halophytes in Bioenergy Production

Launch of the 1st AGYA Science Comic

26 January 2018, 5–9 pm

Ehemaliges Stummfilmkino Delphi, Gustav-Adolf-Straße 2, 13086 Berlin

PROGRAM

- 17:00 Welcome address
Dr. Henda Mahmoudi, International Center for Biosaline Agriculture (ICBA),
Dubai, member of the AGYA Steering Committee
- 17:15 Keynotes
Halophytes in Classical Arabic Botany
Prof. Dr. Thomas Bauer, Arabic and Islamic Studies, University of Münster
- The Challenges and Opportunities of Launching a Science Comic Series in the Arab World: Experiences from Egypt*
Ashraf Amin, Head of the Science & Health Department, Al-Ahram
Newspaper, Cairo
- Picturing the Observer: Framing Telescopes and Microscopes in 19th Century
Cartoons and Early Comics*
Dr. Christian A. Bachmann, literary scholar and publisher, Berlin
- 18:30 The Making-of: From Scientific Paper to Science Comic
Dr. Jan Friesen, Helmholtz Centre for Environmental Research - UFZ,
Department Catchment Hydrology, Leipzig, AGYA Co-President
- 19:00 Meet and Match Dinner
Buffet with Salicornia-treats & light refreshments

Moderator of the event:

Anna Gabai, comic scholar, curator, author and educationist, Berlin

More information about the event on the AGYA website: www.agya.info

Due to limited seating please register until 23 January at: agya@bbaw.de

All presentations are in English.