

Dear colleagues and friends of AGYA,

Over the past decade, AGYA has succeeded to establish its position as a key player in interdisciplinary research cooperation and innovative science diplomacy in the Arab world and Germany. To celebrate AGYA's 10th anniversary, the Academy brought together members, alumni/ae, and renowned speakers from Germany and Arab countries at the AGYA Annual Spring Conference in Berlin. It was a memorable occasion that underscored the shared achievements in knowledge exchange and the impact and growth of the AGYA community since its foundation in 2013/2014.

This newsletter invites you to explore the key activities of AGYA's 10th anniversary celebrations. One highlight was the grand opening of the exhibition 'Elephantine - Island of the Millennia' at the James-Simon-Galerie on the Museumsinsel Berlin. It is the first comprehensive exhibition on the diverse cultural history of the Egyptian Nile island. Another remarkable occasion was an event commemorating Immanuel Kant's 300th anniversary, hosted by the Berlin-Brandenburg Academy of Sciences and Humanities (BBAW), where AGYA members and alumni/ae had the unique opportunity to meet with the Federal Chancellor of Germany Olaf Scholz. Additionally, the AGYA Literary Salon on exile writing, featuring the award-winning author Senthuran Varatharajah, provided insights into the multi-layered and entangled paradoxes of 'homeland' and 'exile'.

Moreover, this newsletter provides insights into AGYA's current research projects, open calls for participation, and the latest publications.

Please do not forget to check out our upcoming events.

We wish you an inspiring read!
